Changing Value Systems: A New Way of Looking at Reality

[For the fishers called in today's Gospel reading,] there's no plan of action except to follow Jesus.... The outward sign that they've repented, or totally changed their value systems, is when they put people instead of fish at the centre of their lives.... Not only do they have no idea where [Jesus is] taking them, they're committing themselves to a lifetime of discovering who this Galilean carpenter actually is. ...Like Jonah, who [in today's OT reading] was forced to deal with the mercy dimension of Yahweh's personality, [the new disciples would] eventually have to throw all their preconceived notions [overboard]. He wouldn't turn out to be the [kind of] messiah the vast majority of Jews were expecting; he would not throw the Romans out of Palestine, nor set up a Jewish kingdom. In the end, these four fishers would find out they had abandoned their nets... [for] someone who, at this point, they hardly knew. As time went by, they uncovered more and more implications of the "Yes" they gave to that almost random call.... [And by the time 1 Corinthians was written, this] movement that had begun 30 years before in an out-of-the-way Roman province was over-turning the value system of the world's most powerful empire.... [Jesus'] followers had ushered in a new way of looking at reality.

If some aspects of our Christian morality [seem to] have changed through the centuries, it's not because we're trying to be socially acceptable or politically correct, but because we've discovered new ways in which the risen Jesus is relating to us and those around us. Christian slave owners, for instance, traditionally defended their ownership of other human beings.... From our perspective, we'd... accuse them of conveniently overlooking the freeing dimensions of Jesus' personality, something a lot of his followers haven't noticed until recently....

Last week we began our series of second collections, which will continue on alternate Sundays. Please make cheques payable to the Parish, earmarked "Sharing God's Gifts" – and print your name and envelope number clearly on the Sharing God's Gifts envelope.

St Ignatius Statement for this week: To our regular Sunday, collection you gave $12,156 in support of our Parish, including school and church expenses. To Sharing God's Gifts you gave $268. To Agape and the Poor Box you gave $55. Thank you for your generosity.

Please consider using Pre-Authorized Payments (PAC) for your contributions to the church: an easy way to donate. To start a new PAC or increase an existing one, please fill out a form available from the Office.

Faith and Reason; Sexuality, Religion and Violence: Catholic Discussion Forum, Saturday 17 February, 9:30am-4:15pm, St Mary's Academy Theatre, 550 Wellington Cresc. Facilitator: Dr Brett Salkeld, Archdiocesan Theologian for the Archdiocese of Regina.

Panhandlers come to St Ignatius every Sunday to ask for money. They receive food, clothing and warm shelter from agencies such as Siloam Mission, the Salvation Army or the Main Street Project. The money you give them goes to cigarettes, alcohol and other drugs, as the Winnipeg Police can attest. The Gospel mandate, "I was hungry and you gave me food" is much better served by supporting the charities that really help the poor. Please do not give money to the panhandlers – give it instead to agencies that really help the poor. – Fr J. Newman, sj
