REFLECTION

And He Took Them Up in His Arms

People were bringing little children to him in order that he might touch them; and the disciples spoke sternly to them. But when Jesus saw this, he was indignant and said to them, "Let the little children come to me; do not stop them; for it is to such as these that the kingdom of God belongs. Truly I tell you, whoever does not receive the kingdom of God as a little child will never enter it." And he took them up in his arms, laid his hands on them, and blessed them. (Mark 10: 13-16)

Make us enjoy bubbles blown in the wind and chased after in giggling glee before they pop and splatter on our faces

Move us to climb the summer night to the rooftop watching the Perseid meteor shower till dawn's twilight with guttural wows and oohs at the sparkling sky streaks

Give us energy for playing in the debris of the world turning mud into castles and sticks into houses and we imagine we are kings and queens again

Give us eyes to see an enchanted universe where every magical dream and foolish hope are possible and expected and make us giddy with anticipation

Take our sticky adult minds and thin our thick thoughts until our flowing childhood wonder returns at every cricket and we are moved by every chocolate kiss and lip kisses, too until finally you elicit our antediluvian praise and we sit back in your loving arms and know very little except that we are and we are in you
