REFLECTION

Chef

*You are the salt of the earth; but if the salt has lost its taste, how can its saltiness be restored?
It is no longer good for anything, but is thrown out and trampled under foot. (Matt 5: 13)*

There is white onion chopping to be done and crying with it and juliennes of jicama to slice and a slip and a cut and the vinaigrette must be whisked and emulsified and tested, balancing of sweet and vinegar to please the palate,
the steak is seared in the black iron pan and peppered
the potatoes roasted in rosemary and garlic browned.

Then the chef does his effortless enchanted toss with salt delights the tongue and the soul, taking us back when salt is what we swam in and breathed and sang so much us that we did not know or taste until we left it.

So it is with God and each other and the love we walked away from.
Now with generous offering we are salted and relished, offered a taste of love in a bland and hungry world needing a mere amuse-bouche of the holy we are swimming in.

– Rev Michael Coffey (Pastor, First English Lutheran Church, Austin, TX),
