REFLECTION

NEW MOON OVER EMMAUS

When he was at the table with them, he took bread, blessed and broke it, and gave it to them. Then their eyes were opened, and they recognized him; and he vanished from their sight. (Luke 24: 30-31

A new moon over Emmaus and in the spacious dark sky the waning and waxing of an old story forgotten you know the one where the unfamiliar walk and talk and share bread and wine and humble deep laughter where hospitality and conviviality become the norm and the sacred is tasted and touched in daily routine where war stories and scar stories are voiced beyond the pain and the memory of courage eclipses panic and pride where archetypal hopes of liberation and a world refreshed rise again like the warming of alcohol in a red cheek flush.

So why is it that just when we get it again, fly-by-night Jesus, in the breaking and pouring and dining and singing does it all disappear through a fissure in the evening air and you wrench us out to find it with some other wayfarer not just here and now, never settled or fixed in rubrics we would incant and enact in a Mobius movement nowhere, but like you, always rising and walking on and out, hungry for the next meal where strangers become divine companions?

Keep us in phase with your lunatic ways, Jesus of broken bread, so like the moon we and your wild twilight dream of God can be new, can silver some reflection of your light can spin and orbit and elate into full glow and aura.
