Ease of Mystery

"...When the spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own, but will speak whatever he hears, and he will declare to you the things that are to come. He will glorify me, because he will take what is mine and declare it to you. All that the Father has is mine. For this reason I said that he will take what is mine and declare it to you."
-- John 16: 13-15

not that it is hard as calculus or Rubik's Cube but it is easier than thinking itself not that you must own it or master it but it contains you within itself generously not that you can bottle it like spring water but you walk through it like forest mist not that you can keep it safe from adulteration but you let it unlock you into the mess of life not that you can doctrinize and ontologize it but you sing its praises in harmony and unity not that you can teach it like Cartesian philosophy but you look at it together like the Chicago Chagall not that it is work for you to do before or after faith but you climb on it like playground monkey bars not that it is hidden in a wartime cipher but it is the peace of this tacit knowing
