REFLECTION

Lose Yourself Along the Way

For those who want to save their life will lose it, and those who lose their life for my sake, and for the sake of the gospel, will save it. (Mark 8:35) this road you pave with your words and your broken body and blood poured it is not on the lustrous map I bought on Amazon the Travel Channel has no feature on the highlights and hot spots there is no restaurant tour with stops for every palate no kitschy giant dinosaurs to stop and take snapshots with the kids this way that you speak of with mouth wide open is every dark dream we ever feared might be true and all that we wish we could fix about our lot and the sum of all we reject and hide in the mind's black box hoping we will never lose control and crash into the jungle and have its contents played for all to hear but you say this bumpy path, this crooked cross highway is the way of life itself, the gift hidden inside ugly truth that we will indeed know suffering no matter our resistance but oh, letting it befriend us we finally have something to live for something bigger than ourselves, so trembling we submit and enter into your eddy of mercy and welcome the news we live only when we have something we are willing to die for when we know that our lives in their short span were spent for love
